

NOTICE OF STATUTORY SECTION 10 CONSULTATION

The Insignis Academy Trust are required to consult with the community as part of their journey to open The Kingsbrook School, a six form entry secondary school on the new Kingsbrook development in Aylesbury.

The consultation is a formal part of the process of securing the schools funding agreement from the Secretary of State for Education. As The Kingsbrook School is a new school, we do not have a funding agreement in place. If you would like to see what the funding agreement for this school might look like, you can view a model Funding Agreement online at: www.gov.uk/government/publications/academy-and-free-school-funding-agreements

In this consultation, we are asked to consult with anyone who may have an opinion on the opening of the school and in particular whether the Secretary of State should fund the school. In order to capture the thoughts of those with an interest in the opening of the school, we will be circulating this flyer to all parents in Buckinghamshire schools, via the Primary Executive Board and the Buckinghamshire Secondary Heads Association. We will send the notice to Buckinghamshire elected members and our parliamentary representatives. Information about this Consultation will be posted on all Insignis Academy Trust Schools websites. We will also ensure the flyer is distributed to community organisations.
